Senate Puts Off Showdown Vote On Bohlen

Opposition To Appointee Stiffening

Washington (AP)—The Senate yesterday postponed a vote on President Eisenhower's nomination of Charles E. Bohlen as ambassador to Moscow amid signs of stiffening opposition by a small Republican-dominated group.

Senate Republican Leader Taft of Ohio made the decision to delay the showdown until Friday when it became clear that the debate would keep the Senate far later than its usual quitting time.

Taft called a temporary cease-fire shortly before 5 p.m. He had a 5:30 date to help his wife give a big tea party for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Leading off the administration's drive for confirmation, Taft told the Senate that Bohlen is "a completely good security risk" and that even Bohlen's bitterest critics had never accused him of Communist leanings.

As the hard core of the opposition, Senators Bridges (R-NH) and McCarthy (R-Wis.) hotly denounced Bohlen as a supporter of the old Truman-Acheson regime, while Sen. Lehman (D-NY) expressed his "indignation" at the attacks on Bohlen.

Lehman, in a speech closing debate for the day, deplored what he described as tactics which "fill men with fear and make them afraid of self-appointed, self-designated defenders of the security of the United States."

The New Yorker said Bohlen had been "pilloried on mere rumor," and he told the Senate:

"There has never been a blemish on his record. He has served his country with great ability and unswerving devotion."

Then, turning on McCarthy, Lehman accused the Wisconsin senator of making indefensible charges against a great American, Averell Harriman.

"It is an outrage," Lehman said. "He (McCarthy) virtually accused him (Harriman) of being sympathetic to the Communist cause."

Lehman's outburst apparently stemmed from McCarthy's assertion that Harriman, former ambassador to Moscow and director of mutual security in the Truman administration, started Bohlen "along the road to fame and Yalta."

Bridges, the senior Republican in the Senate, attacked Bohlen as an "exponent of appeasement and containment" dealing with Russia. He suggested that Secretary of State Dulles was sending Bohlen to Moscow to get rid of him as a policy-making counselor in the State Department.

Budenz Appears At Senate Probe Into Red Books

Washington (AP)—Former Communist Louis Budenz testified yesterday books by at least 75 Communists are in State Department libraries overseas and a "concealed Communist" must have advised putting them there.

"This," Budenz said, "is a method of breeding Communism throughout the world."

Now a Fordham University professor, Budenz was a leading figure in the Communist part from 1935 to 1945. He appeared before the Senate investigation subcommittee, which is trying to find out how books by Communists got onto the shelves of libraries at some 150 information centers round the globe. The department has announced such books are being withdrawn.

Two of the authors, Lawrence Rosinger and James S. Allen, have refused to say whether they ever were Communists.

PP&L-Scranton Hearing Listed

Harrisburg (AP)—The Public Utility Commission yesterday set April 23 for a hearing in Scranton on the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. and the Scranton Electric Co.

The PP&L wants to buy all of Scranton's outstanding stock. The merger would have to be approved by the utility commission and Scranton Electric stockholders. The PP&L has about a half-million consumers in 28 eastern and central counties.

Draft Calls May Decline After June

Washington (AP)—Draft calls may taper off to 37,000 men a month or less after June, the Defense Department said yesterday. The current monthly rate is 53,000.

A Pentagon spokesman explained that prospects of a reduced draft call were based on estimates that only 450,000 men will be required in the fiscal year starting July 1 to replace soldiers whose two years of service are ending.

Another factor, he said, is Secretary of Defense Wilson's statement last week that the current military manpower force of 3½ million will be reduced in the next fiscal year by cutting the strength of units stationed in the United States.

Any drastic change in the international situation, of course, could push manpower requirements up or down.

Bodies Of Four Women Found; Killer Sought

London (AP)—Scotland Yard detectives last night pried open, scraped and examined every inch of a grimy house of murder that has yielded the bodies of four scantily clothed women.

Three of the victims were young. All were poor and work-worn when the killer struck.

Post-mortem examinations disclosed that three, found walled up in a pantry Tuesday were strangled, presumably several months ago. Detectives yesterday recovered the body of the fourth—a woman of undetermined age—from under the floorboards in the small front room. Presumably a stranger also killed her.

Throughout Britain, alerted police officers sought John Christie to see if he could help them in the investigation.

Christie, 55, was the last occupant of the apartment, one of several in a house which also was the scene of a double murder in 1949. He was described as a timid-looking clerk, with a rather owlish expression who walks in an exaggerated military manner.

Christie's wife and his old dog, Bob, also are missing.

Lady Astor Drops Acid Remark At Senator McCarthy

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower shook hands politely last night with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) the man who is battling the President's choice for ambassador to Moscow.

Whatever feeling Eisenhower may have about the 'hot' Senate fight over Charles E. Bohlen were concealed at a party given by Senator and Mrs. Robert A. Taft in honor of Mrs. Eisenhower. But one of the 250 guests was not so reticent.

As McCarthy sipped a drink, Lady Nancy Astor, American-born former member of Parliament and noted for her acid tongue, commented on an aside:

"Too bad it isn't poison."

Lenten Meditation

By Rev. Alton P. Albright
Pleasant Valley Evangelical-Reformed Churches

You and I are concerned with life at first hand. We must be if we would survive. It is important to care for ourselves and our loved ones, to provide food, and shelter, and material security.

We likewise are easily led to spend too much time with pleasure and entertainment, although all these in proper balance are essential to a happy life. We are creatures of time, so we eat and drink and are merry.

In most of our waking hours we are much more concerned with time than we are with eternity.

During Lent especially, we are confronted with the truth of Jesus Christ—the facts of His gracious and divine ministry, and of His unique passion and self-giving even to the cross. He can never be accused of by-passing human need, of hunger or pain. For he was touched with our infirmity.

Yet always He was pointing to the eternal, to those associations which are timeless and to those values which are beyond the senses.

His final suffering and death are His life poured out that we might experience the life He came to reveal. So when we look upon Jesus on the cross we begin to see the unveiling of the eternal purpose of God to win us and to woo us to the new life of His kingdom.

His zeal is to have us see beyond our noses and our selfish interests to our true calling as citizens of the kingdom of God.

Can you not hear Him say, "I am come that you might have life, and have it abundantly."

Tribute Paid To Queen Mary By Churchill

London (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill termed Queen Mary a figure of almost legendary distinction in a broadcast tribute last night as the Royal Household prepared for her funeral Tuesday.

"Queen Mary was loved and revered far and wide, as perhaps nobody has been since Queen Victoria," Churchill said in an address to the British Commonwealth which was heard also in the United States.

"Men and women of all ages, in all the lands owing allegiance to the crown, have sorrowing hearts tonight."

The Queen, who died Tuesday night at 85, moved easily through the changing scenes from the Victorian to the atomic eras, he said, and she lived to see the British crown "far more broadly and securely based on the people's love and the nation's will than in the sedate days of her youth."

"Queen Mary will long live mellow and gracious in all our memories and in the annals of these tumultuous times," Churchill said. "We pray that she may now rest in peace."

A private funeral will be held for her Tuesday in St. George's Chapel of Windsor Castle, for centuries the final resting place of British kings and queens.

The regal old matriarch, whose death occurred just two months short of her 86th birthday, will be buried in the chapel beside the body of her husband, King George V, who died in 1936. Their son, King George VI, is among others who lie beneath the ancient stone floor.

Buckingham Palace announced the arrangements tonight.

It had already been made clear that Queen Mary will be granted her dying wish—the coronation of her beloved granddaughter, Queen Elizabeth II, will go on as scheduled June 2.

Queen Elizabeth decreed only a month's court mourning.

It was a hard decision for the young Queen to make, but it was in compliance with the tradition-bound Queen Mary's own forcefully stated view about the coronation: "Nothing must interfere with it. Nothing." There was a mourning period of 3½ months for Elizabeth's father, George VI, after his death Feb. 6, 1952.

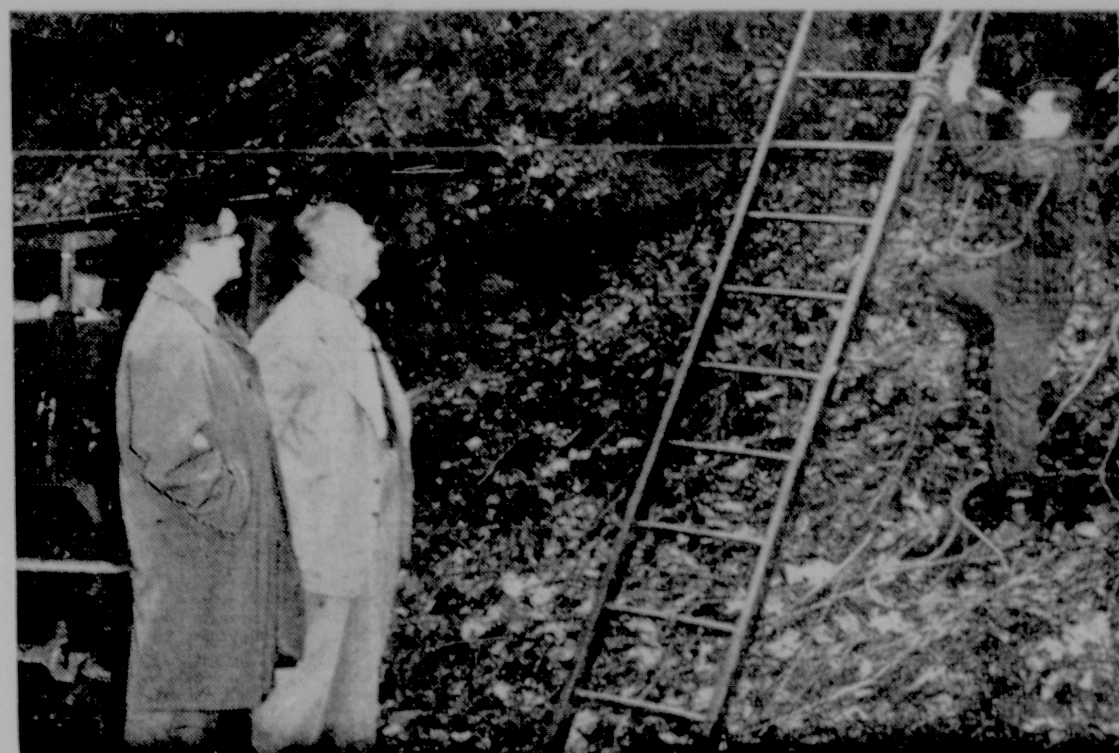

The one-month mourning period will leave plenty of time to complete arrangements for the coronation and attendant festivities that are expected to draw thousands of visitors to Britain.

Atomic Scientist Dies Under Guard

San Francisco (AP)—The strange story of a trusted young scientist, who died under close security guard lest he talk incoherently and reveal secret information, was disclosed yesterday.

He was William C. Twitchell, 36, a native of Minnesota and project engineer in charge of the University of California radiation laboratory mechanical equipment.

Twitchell died at Letterman Army Hospital Monday of a malignant disease which had no connection with his work.

Cutting In Of Seven Lines Restored Normal Saylorburg-To-Stroudsburg Phone Service

Seven trunk lines for telephone communications between Stroudsburg and Saylorburg were connected this week and full-scale service restored for the first time since the Jan. 9 storm ripped wires along the 7.2 mile stretch.

Yesterday the local managers of Bell Telephone Co. and Pennsylvania Community Telephone Co. (Blue Mountain) inspected the lines.

James Drury, manager of the Bangor firm disclosed all subscribers in the Cherry Valley-Popular Valley area, about 44, will be re-installed by Monday, terminating the two and a half month struggle to restore communications to 60 percent of Blue Mountain's 6,600 subscribers.

Installation of the cable to replace open wires started Feb. 24 with Bell Telephone Co. workers erecting the line for Blue Mountain.

Budd VanHorn, manager of Bell Company's Stroudsburg office revealed two more lines are scheduled for cut in when materials become available. VanHorn said the nine lines would provide ample facilities for the traffic between Stroudsburg and Saylorburg.

When the project got underway Blue Mountain crews connected 250 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen of the Lehigh and New England Railroad has felled the 6,000 anthracite miners in the Panther Valley pits.

The miners are not involved in the dispute but they can't operate without the railroad cars to carry the coal from the breakers. The walkout of train service men occurred Tuesday and W. H. Edwards, president of the company at Bethlehem, said everything was carried out "in a most orderly fashion."

Edwards said the dispute involves "monetary claims which the train service employees demand for performing certain services. The company contends the money is not due the employees."

The Lehigh and New England, which operates in Eastern Pennsylvania, Northern New Jersey and Southern New York, is one of the country's major anthracite and cement carriers.

President Proposes Revamping Of Agriculture Department

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower proposed yesterday to give Secretary Benson blank check authority to reorganize the Agriculture Department and its far-flung field agencies. The purpose, he said, is to cut costs and simplify operations in farm aid programs.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) quickly forecast congressional approval. He told reporters the plan closely follows recommendations made by the Government Reorganization Commission led by former President Hoover.

Eisenhower's proposal was advanced in the form of a reorganization plan for the department, submitted to Congress by the White House. Such a plan goes into effect automatically in 60 days unless either the House or the Senate vetoes it. It could go into effect earlier by affirmative action of both houses.

The plan would give the department three assistant secretaries instead of the present one, plus an administrative assistant secretary to aid Benson. The big department now has 54,000 full time employees and the assistance of about 95,000 farmer committeemen who perform administrative tasks on a part-time basis.

The new assistant secretaries and the administrative assistant would simply replace existing positions and would "not result in any net increase in personnel," Benson told Eisenhower.

Testifying before the Senate Banking Committee, Fleming dumped squarely in the lap of Congress the decision on standby quick-freeze powers, aimed to give Congress time to write a detailed anti-inflation law.

Congress is the best judge, he said, of whether it could act swiftly enough—meaning within perhaps 10 days of a military crisis—to avert economic disaster.

Tanker Crashes; Two Men Perish

Binghamton, N. Y. (AP)—Two truckmen burned to death last night when their milk tank truck left a highway, plunged over an embankment onto railroad tracks and caught fire.

They were identified as Richard Hoggaboom, 25, of Chenango Forks and Russell Arnold, 18, of Binghamton.

The truck was operated by the H. F. McBride Co.

Aid For Red China

Moscow (AP) The Soviet Union announced today a big new economic aid program for Communist China. Russia will send to the Chinese People's Republic key capital goods for vital Chinese industries.

Rail Strike Idles 6,000 Coal Miners

Allentown (AP)—The walkout of 250 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen of the Lehigh and New England Railroad has felled the 6,000 anthracite miners in the Panther Valley pits.

The miners are not involved in the dispute but they can't operate without the railroad cars to carry the coal from the breakers. The walkout of train service men occurred Tuesday and W. H. Edwards, president of the company at Bethlehem, said everything was carried out "in a most orderly fashion."

Edwards said the dispute involves "monetary claims which the train service employees demand for performing certain services. The company contends the money is not due the employees."

Reuther Reelectd

Atlantic City, N. J. (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, who first won the CIO United Auto Workers presidency as the upshot of a factional feud here in 1946, was re-elected unanimously yesterday to his fifth straight term.

Ten Accident Victims Buried At Joint Funeral Services

Washington, N. J. (AP)—Five small white caskets and five bronze coffins bearing the broken bodies of the Matlock family—victims of the nation's worst single-car traffic accident—were lowered into the grave yesterday.

A gray, quiescent sky hung overhead as seven hearse slowly wound their way from a funeral home in this rural community to two Warren County cemeteries.

All stores were closed out of respect to dairy farmer Clarence Matlock and his family who were killed in last Friday night's unprecedented tragedy.

State police provided an escort to the cortege of hearses, two flower cars and a long line of mourning cars carrying more than 100 relatives of the Matlocks.

Matlock, his wife, Alma; two sons, three daughters, two sisters and his mother—all riding in his new automobile—lost their lives in the collision of the car and a trailer truck on Route 69, not far from this hamlet.

More than 2,000 persons visited the Devoe funeral home to mourn the family over the weekend and early this week.

Hundreds of curious also visited Reemer's garage to see the twisted wreckage of the Matlocks' six-week-old car. Others went out to view the deserted family homestead in Hope on the shores of Silver Lake.

John Scarrantino, 21, of Scranton, Pa., driver of the truck that collided with the Matlock car, was charged yesterday with driving in the state after loss of his privilege to do so. He also is charged with passing in the face of oncoming traffic and causing death by motor vehicle.

Planes Bombard Old Baldy After Troops Withdraw

Seoul (AP)—U. S. Seventh Division troops completely abandoned the strategic peak of Old Baldy on the main invasion route to Seoul early today after three days of bitter fighting.

Shortly after dawn, Fifth Air Force planes roared down on the Chinese-held hill in a terrific bombardment.

The air pounding still was under way late in the morning.

Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers roared down on Old Baldy's crest in flights of four at 20-minute intervals. Each plane unloaded two 1,000-pound bombs on the broken bunkers and caved-in trenches sheltering the Chinese.

Earlier, fresh Seventh Division troops had moved into position on the shell-pitted hill during the night while an Allied artillery and air bombardment held the Chinese in their holes on the crest.

Maj. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, Seventh commander, had predicted, "We will retake Old Baldy—and soon."

Seventh Division troops before the withdrawal were "pinned down 125 yards from the crest. AP Correspondent Stan Carter reported from the front they had spent an uneasy night Wednesday under a rain of Communist artillery and mortar fire.

"I assume the troops were removed in order to make the air bombardment after daylight," he said.

Chinese Communists swept over Old Baldy Monday night in a smashing Western Front attack, their heaviest in five months.

Seventh Division troops clung to a foothold on the strategic hill 11 miles west of Chorwon but made only minor gains in counterattacks Tuesday and Wednesday.

Fifth Air Force and Marine fighter-bombers roared down on the peak in flights of four during daylight hours yesterday. At nightfall B26 light bombers took over. The Fifth said they dumped 25 tons of bombs on the Red positions.

Elsewhere in North Korea, the light bombers were credited with knocking out 49 Communist trucks last night.

Fifteen B29 Superforts bombed Northwestern Korean supply centers at Soro and Yangmimol and the Munang center 30 miles northwest of Wonsan on the east coast.

In the battle for Old Baldy, Seventh Division counterattacks during daylight hours Tuesday and yesterday bogged down in mud and intense Chinese fire.

The Chinese and American positions were so close U. S. soldiers drew fire "every time they popped their heads up," a division briefing officer said.

Majority Seek Freedom

Frankfurt, Germany (AP)—Six anti-Communists who escaped from Red-ruled Czechoslovakia by seizing a Czech airliner in flight said yesterday 95 per cent of all Czechs would choose freedom if they could.

Council Names Millard Marsh As Fire Chief

Stroudsburg Council last night broke a deadlock over who shall be the next chief of the fire department by unanimously selecting Millard Marsh, a former chief and member of the department for 30 years as chief.

They approved in the same action the appointment of Webb Heller, member of the department for 13 years and engineer of the Phoenix Company, for assistant chief.

Edward Lawson, president of council, again presided at a meeting of five delegates from Chemical and Phoenix companies.

Once again Chemical delegates nominated Mr. Marsh and Phoenix delegates again nominated Mr. Heller.

When Secretary Harold Snyder called the roll of delegates the vote was tied five to five.

Fire committee of council submitted its unanimous recommendation that Mr. Marsh be named chief. This report was unanimously adopted in formal vote by council.

U. S. Eager To Go Half Way

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—The United States told Russians and the U. N. yesterday it is eager for negotiations with the Soviet Union to ease world tensions and will meet the Russians half way any time.

The U. S. statement was made significantly on the eve of Soviet Chief Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky's return to the U. N. from talks in the Kremlin with the new Malenkov government.

To the cheers of the public gallery, Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. also warned the Russians and the 60-nation U. N. Political Committee that the U. S. program of mutual security aid to the free world will stop only when the threat of Communist aggression ends.

"Our mutual security program will stop when the threat of aggression—not only for us but for all the free world—is lifted," Lodge said.

"The United States, like all the free world, prefers peaceful settlements to a dangerous and burdensome armaments race. We do not enjoy that. We long for the day of honest negotiations which any government asked for in this committee last week. We will meet the Soviet Union half way at any time."

Lowering Of Tax On Cheap Cigarets Gains Support

Washington (AP)—A bill cutting taxes on depression-born "economy" cigarettes, and maybe leading to a price war which would bring down the prices of all brands, ran into Treasury opposition yesterday.

It developed strong support, nonetheless, among members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, which turned down a similar bill three years ago by a one-vote margin.

Rep. Simpson (R-Pa.), sponsor of the bill, said it would weaken what he called the "working monopoly" of the big manufacturers in the tobacco field and, at the same time, give both the smoker and the small manufacturer a break.

The Treasury estimated the tax loss at 17 to 22 million dollars.

Farewell To Villa Trianon; Diva Brings Tears To Eyes With Song Of Far-Away Home

Haller Ottaway, mother of James H. Ottaway, publisher of The Daily Record. (Following is the twenty-fourth of a series of travel articles written by Ruth)

By Ruth Haller Ottaway

Cap Martin—The large Javanese gong hanging in the corner of the great hall—struck vigorously with a padded stick for a big, bass drum—sounded its muffled musical call vibrating into silence, for the last time for us before our departure.

Gathered in the dining-salon, we sat at the long table, the kind and courteous 89-year-old Anton, his dynamic and warm-hearted wife, the Diva, and we. We talked of the past, of the Diva's Chicago Opera days, and begged her to sing for us just once.

"I sing no more. Twenty-five years ago Anton said, 'I will not be a stagedoor Johnnie. If you marry me, your public career is over.' I married Anton, you see. But suddenly she leaped up, opened a door into the Grand Salon, went to the far end, seated herself at the piano and lifted her voice in song.

The amazing beauty of that voice—the golden inner quality of sweetness like strained honey, and a roundness like pearls in the soaring soprano tones! We were struck dumb. As she sang on, "Connais-tu le pays?" (from Thomas's "Mignon"), tears began to roll down my face.

When in strange lands one never knows what little incident will make naked suddenly an inner feeling of nostalgia for home that one has had all the time.

It may be the fragrance of a rose like those in your garden, a European auto horn like the one your 14-year-old lugged home from Europe years ago, or a young man politely waiting on you, he of several languages and early responsibility with a trapped and hopeless look in his eyes.

(They all, every last one, want to go to the United States, the land of opportunity).

All of these things and others had tugged at my heart-strings, but when the Diva sang like an angel about the far-away home of the heart, it was too much, just as true beauty is often too much to bear.

A tour of the villa and faceveils and such hand-shakings as I never saw with Emily, the smiling cook, Marie, our kind maid, this one, that one and the other, and finally as we got into the car, with Otto, the chauffeur but real steward of the entire villa. All hesitated to accept tips and were full of thanks, smiles and "Come again."

As we drove away, Anton, the octogenarian, with indescribable charm and the poise of acquired wisdom, gazed through the glass port cochere and waved a last farewell. He of the perennial youth—we knew we would meet again. "Connais-tu le pays?" Do you know that heavenly land, dear Anton, and dear Diva? None of us does, but what a joy to meet along the way!

There wasn't, and with a song in our hearts we ate delicious Villa Trianon smoked salmon sandwiches, drank coffee, and blessed the Diva for bringing us back from that far-off land to solid earth. We were off to Genoa to board the S. S. Saturnia for Barcelona.

Ralph Bender Elected President Of New Board Of Health

Duties Are Outlined By Council

A new Stroudsburg Board of Health began to function last night to administer all laws governing public health in the borough.

Ralph Bender, a veteran of previous board service, was elected president. Mr. Bender resides on Phillips St.

Raymond Frantz, Dreher Ave., was elected vice president.

Mrs. James Cummings, N. Fifth St., was selected to serve as secretary.

Other board members are Mrs. E. C. Pyle, Colbert St., and Dr. Marshall Metzgar, N. Seventh St.

The board members met with members of Borough Council to hear council spokesmen and Attorney George T. Robinson, solicitor, outline the desires of council for a sound public health program.

President Edward C. Lawson said council during the past few years had given considerable time to preparation of a sound, modern public health ordinance which it adopted.

Council then proceeded to seek out an active health officer, he said, and see that he was trained under state and U. S. Public Health regulations at University of Pittsburgh and in field work at White Plains, N. Y.

Mr. Lawson said the acceptance of those selected to serve on the board of health finally completed the moves necessary to have an active, public health program directed by responsible authority.

Board was advised by council and Mr. Robinson that they, henceforth, are to assume the responsibility for good public health and good health practices.

Council will cooperate, lend them legal assistance and support them whenever they seek such support, but otherwise they will take over the direction and enforcement of public health laws, rules and regulations, either existing as state statute, borough ordinance or as rules the board makes.

Mr. Robinson explained the state statutes and advised the board they will receive copies. Copies of the borough's health ordinance were supplied last night.

Health Officer Samuel Van Gordon will be directly responsible to the Board of Health. The board was asked to submit regular reports to council on their activities.

Council chambers were turned over to the board for its regular meeting and the organization meeting last night.

Lone Picket Halts Work On New YMCA Building; Union Cites Grievance

Construction stopped at the YMCA yesterday when workers refused to cross a picket line there.

The lone picket was on duty when men employed in the excavation crews showed up for work in the morning. After seeing the sign, "Unfair to Labor," the workers went back home.

The picket walked up and down in the rain throughout the day. It was expected by a union spokesman that a picket would be on duty again today.

The picket line was ordered at a meeting Tuesday night at CLU Club, East Stroudsburg.

Unanimous approval was voted by the Building and Trades Union Council of Monroe and Pike Counties. The council is composed of 16 delegates, representing all trades.

Acting secretary Howard Woolver recorded the actions in the minutes in the absence of Albert LaBar.

He said the minutes of the Tuesday meeting listed the following reasons for the union action:

Matt Kime, electrical contractor on the job, and Hanford L. Cleveland, plumbing contractor, both use non-union workmen, the minutes report.

Paul Edinger, the general contractor, uses union bricklayers and carpenters, but non-union laborers, the minutes continue.

The Trades Union Council argues that "union men will be contributing money to help build the new YMCA, so should have a share in the construction work."

"If contractors can come in from outside the county, hire all union men, complete a job and leave with a profit in their pocket, there's no reason local contractors can't do it," a spokesman said.

Secretary LaBar said there are plenty of local union laborers, electricians and plumbers to complete any projected work in the two counties in the council's jurisdiction.

Union representatives did not seek out contractors yesterday to go over the grievances involved.

Only group working at present is G. H. Lits, a subcontractor, in charge of excavation work. It was Lits' men who refused to cross the picket's line yesterday.

Queried about the work stoppage yesterday, Edinger said, "I don't care for the life of me know what it's all about. Nobody's said a thing to me. I don't know why they wouldn't come and tell me before they all go out."

Cleveland also was reached. He said no union representative had been in contact with him recently and no one had approached him or discussed a possible work stoppage with him before or after the halt yesterday.

Kime could not be reached last night.

New Jersey To Seek Bids On Freeway

Trenton, N. J. — Bids will be sought within "a few weeks" on paving the four-lane freeway from Columbia, N. J., to the new 2,500-foot long Delaware River Bridge.

Edward Kilpatrick, chief engineer of the New Jersey State Highway Department, said current estimates indicate the modern, high-speed highway will not be completed before January, 1954.

Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge officials, who are building the three bridge crossings at Portland, Delaware Water Gap and Milford, said they "hope to be out of the Delaware Water Gap project by Dec. 1."

All bids have been let on the bridges except painting and landscaping around the toll bridge plazas.

Most recent awards were made for the decks or travel surfaces on the three bridges.

Mr. Kilpatrick disclosed that a contract has been awarded for removal of one of the piers carrying Lehigh & New England Railroad Company's overhead tracks to a Delaware River bridge crossing.

The pier is being moved to give the highway department sufficient room for the four-lane road and a wider divisor between the double traffic lanes.

Kilpatrick said the divisor "in the open areas" will be 20 to 30 feet wide—forming a large safety island between the double traffic lanes.

Where the four-lane road starts through the Gorge of Delaware Water Gap, the divisor will narrow down to a few feet. This is required because of impossibility to get enough space along the sheer mountain wall for any wider safety zone. The highway will remain four lane through the gorge.

Peter W. Kero, contractor presently working grading for the freeway, has had an extremely difficult job through the gorge section of the route.

Major problem has been drainage off and out of the mountain side. Numerous streams, springs and channels which carry surface water have to be caught and properly drained from the highway right-of-way to the river.

No damage was done, Melick, father of Stroudsburg's fire chief Robert Melick, said the pipe went red and paint on it burned. He turned in the alarm for fear it would ignite the wall.

Commissioners To Set Up Vote Machine Instruction Centers Prior To Primary

Voting machine "instruction centers" will be set up before the May primaries as they were before the last general election.

That was the plan set in motion yesterday by the board of county commissioners.

For the first time, on May 19, voters in all but the two smallest districts of the county will be voting by machine.

The machines proved themselves in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Middle Stroud and Smithfield districts last November, where they were also in use for the first time.

Even the voters who missed the instruction sessions held in these districts reported no difficulty in operating the new machines.

Nevertheless response to the instruction centers was so enthusiastic that commissioners this week decided to do it again—chiefly because of districts where machines will be used for the first time.

Last year the instruction sessions were handled by volunteers from the Stroudsburg Woman's Club.

The affair was conducted on a non-partisan basis, with Republican and Democratic chairmen. At each instruction center, two women worked as a team—one a Republican and the other a Democrat.

Commissioners Amzi E. Altenose, W. Adolph Rake and Granville Shiffer have been approached by scores of people who asked if there would be "more instruction centers" set up before the election.

The commissioners and Chief Clerk Harry Taylor have started contacting women's organizations in their districts.

They hope to enlist the services of such groups as women's civic clubs, veterans organization auxiliaries, PTA women, and fire company auxiliaries.

The volunteers will receive preliminary instructions themselves at one or two centers.

Time and place will be announced after plans are more concrete.

It is expected that the various instruction centers will be staggered in date, so a voter who misses one may go to another. They will probably be held around May 1.

When voters attend the instruction sessions they will be shown all the details of using the machine: how to write in a candidate's name if it's not on the ballot; how to depress the levers; how to correct an error before pulling the lever; how to register the vote.

Commissioners will make further announcements as arrangements progress.

Council Okays Specifications For Meters

Specifications for an automatic parking meter were approved last night by Stroudsburg Council.

Bids will be sought immediately for new automatics to replace existing meters on Main St. from Fifth to Eighth and for installation on Main west to Ninth St.

It is expected the bids will be received sometime after the regular April meeting of council.

Under the new metering plan, meters now in use on Main from Fifth to Eighth will be moved to both sides of Monroe, Sixth to Eighth, the west side of Seventh, Monroe to Sarah; the east side of Sixth, Monroe to Sarah, and the east side of eighth, Main to Monroe.

During last night's special meeting council also decided to buy sufficient rubber-base paint to cover sides and bottom of the Stroudsburg swimming pool.

Bids will be sought on labor for applying the paint. Other improvements will be made in the system of pool operation before the playground and pool are opened for the summer.

Parents, Teachers To Resume Talks

East Stroudsburg Junior High parents and teachers meet at 7:30 tonight in the school library to continue their discussion of marking and reporting practices.

Water Drainage Condition To Be Remedied

Delaware Water Gap—A promise to alleviate existing water conditions on Broad St. here was made by officials of the State Highway Department yesterday morning after a tour of the area with borough councilmen and property owners.

Summoned on a previous occasion for the inspection tour, highway engineers made the return trip at the request of property owners and came up with the assurance the conditions could be remedied, a councilman reported.

Chief complaint stemmed from the new construction across Crossdale field. Streams flowing across the huge acreage were diverted, property owners claimed, and new streams sent water on both the north and south sides of Broad St., emptying at times into cellars and causing soggy conditions to appear in back yards. Drainage also was blocked by construction, the property owners asserted.

Headed by William Warrick, consulting engineer for the highway department, the contingent of highway personnel from Allentown surveyed the land and heard testimony by property owners and a Mount Bethel farmer who leased the land from H. B. Crossdale, farming it for many years. The farmer, identified as Glenn Price, told highway officials the area never was flooded during the period he operated it.

Photographs of the area, before and after present construction, also were presented as the basis for changes that have occurred, a councilman said. Forrest Smith, chief engineer and Crossdale submitted the photographs.

Highway officials also were advised of plans to pave a street leading to the DL&W Railroad station and informed the local group they will investigate the proposed project.

Other highway officials who accompanied Warrick here from the Allentown district office were R. C. Boyer, district engineer; J. C. Quick and J. Hallahan, engineers.

Councilmen present were Richard Hauser, Richard Carlton, Philip Farber and Christie Shull. Other local officials included Chief Burgess Smith, Water Commissioner Frank Howard, Police Chief Fred Decker and Borough Engineer Edward C. Hess.

Property owners making the tour were Floyd Heller, William Heitler and Crossdale, John Bedford, who toured with the group several weeks ago, was unable to attend, it was reported.

Electric generators have been provided as attachments to power lawn mowers and gardening machines by some manufacturing for use when normal electric power is disrupted by storms or other causes.

Rabbi Idell To Represent East, Central Pennsylvania On Israel Bond Committee

Rabbi Maurice Idell, Temple Israel, has been selected to represent Eastern and Central Pennsylvania on Israel Bond Committee.

Simultaneous with announcement of his appointment, Rabbi Idell said Joey Adams, noted entertainer and radio quizmaster, will appear on behalf of the State of Israel $500 million bond issue at the Eastern Supper Club tonight.

Appearance of the two men on the same program will be in the nature of a reunion. They have been close friends for many years.

Adams, known from coast-to-coast for his radio quiz show, "Rate Your Mate," recently visited Israel with his bride. While there, they were received by President Chaim Weizmann and Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, in recognition of the comedian's sale of a million dollars in Israel Bonds in this country.

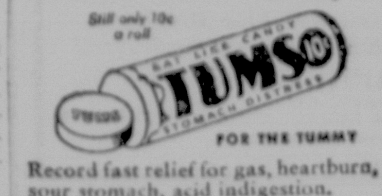

Adams is also author of "From Gags to Riches," an autobiography for which the comedian turned over all his royalties to the Damon Runyon cancer fund—a $165,000 gift.

He also is author of a novel, "The Curtain Never Falls."

Announcing Adams' appearance in this area, Rabbi Idell stressed the importance of the Israel bond issue. Funds provided through the issue will make possible large-scale expansion of Israel's industry and agriculture in the immediate future.

Such expansion will aid the new state in making room for the 600,000 immigrants expected during the coming three years.

New Mothers Attend Classes In Baby Care

Seven new mothers attended the 10th class session at the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, Tuesday, as Monroe County Public Health Nurses outlined the procedures to be followed when the child enters its new home.

Sponsored by the Public Health Nurses organization, a participating agency of Monroe County's Community Chest, classes are held Tuesdays and Fridays at the hospital for mothers of new born children who enter the world there.

Mrs. Virginia DePuy and Mrs. Margaret Loney supervised classroom activities which have instructed 68 mothers and two fathers in the 10 classes held to date.

Emphasis is placed on bathing the baby with the greatest comfort and safety to him, and least trouble to the mother; preparation of the baby's food; planning daily schedules; instructions on the baby's growth and development; selection of information on child care; how to plan the rest, exercise and diet the physician recommends for the mother and how to avoid unnecessary expense in selecting clothing and equipment.

Granted the use of the solarium by the hospital, the professional registered nurses make sure the new mothers have a thorough knowledge of caring for their child before leaving the hospital.

The nurses also will visit the homes if requested, to help the mother carry out the physician's orders. They also give part-time nursing care to mother and baby when needed. The services are available at cost for those able to pay. But community funds provide services on a part-pay or free basis for those unable to meet the cost.

Morris Learning Shoemaker's Trade At Rehabilitation Center

A 22-year-old Marshalls Creek man currently a patient at Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center, Fishersville, Va., has selected the shoemakers trade for his future and is undergoing treatment which will eventually return him to Monroe County ready to tackle a new life.

Eugene H. Morris, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident at Craigs Meadows Sept. 29 which cost the life of his companion, emerged from the accident paralyzed from the hips down and was hospitalized for five months in the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

Combined efforts of the local Veteran Affairs Office, Pennsylvania State Nurses, veterans organizations, the General Hospital, Sen. Montgomery Crowe, physicians and nurses, the Red Cross, East Stroudsburg Methodist Church and others found the rehabilitation center for Morris and he was admitted there March 1.

Word was received this week by the local VA office and State Nurses from Russell E. Armbruster, rehabilitation counselor for the State Board of Vocational Education that Morris has completely adopted himself in the Virginia hospital.

Provided a Hollywood-type wheel chair and furnished with leg braces, the young man is receiving therapy treatments each morning. The remainder of the day is spent in study and learning the new profession, selected after aptitude tests.

Driver Freed In Death Of Baby In Crash

Easton—A reckless driving charge against an East Stroudsburg man was dismissed here this week by Alderman W. L. Otten.

The charge was placed against John J. Stettler, 28, of 8 Stokes Mill Road, as the result of an accident in which nine-months-old Gail Elizabeth Batzel suffered fatal injuries Feb. 26. Stettler was driver of the car owned by the child's father, Harry L. Batzel, Canadensis RD.

The driver of the other car involved, James J. McAuliffe Jr., Easton, had been fined $10 and costs by Otten on a charge of driving too fast for conditions.

In dismissing the charge Otten said the prosecution had failed to prove that Stettler had driven carelessly, or in a manner to endanger life or property.

YOU CAN COUNT ON US

In small business houses and homes, an abacus is still used.

AN ABACUS is a board with wires and beads used as a computing machine. The operator moves the beads back and forth to add, divide, subtract and multiply. How would this ancient device fare in a contest with a modern electrical calculating machine? Recently in Tokyo, Kiyoshi Matsuzaki, an abacus expert, challenged any comptometer operator in the U. S. armed forces to race him in a test of skill. After careful screening Pvt. Thomas Wood was chosen to compete against Matsuzaki. Both men trained for days to get in trim for the duel. GIs from all over Japan made bets on the outcome of the race against time. When the contest ended, the abacus had topped the modern calculator in everything except multiplication. Matsuzaki also made fewer mistakes. But, the abacus is losing another race, because the modern calculator is slowly replacing the abacus in Japan.

Employment Expected To Swing Upward

Although employment in this Pocono area is considered "still low" by district officials of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, an upward trend is anticipated in the next few months, halting the slide which began in September.

Carl Denz, acting manager of the East Stroudsburg office of the PSES, in his bi-monthly review of current employment developments, predicted the increase in employment in the latest labor-market letter just released.

According to Denz, total employment at the end of February in this section is estimated at 11,000—the same as in December.

There were considerable fluctuations due to layoffs and recall of workers during January and February, Denz reported.

The garment industry experienced a pick-up following seasonal layoffs in December, the review continued. Conditions in the hosiery industry were unsettled and adversely affected employment, Denz said.

He added, "One firm in the fabricated metal products group encountered a material shortage which resulted in an indefinite layoff of about 50 workers, and another firm in the same group, due to improved business conditions, hired around 25 new employees." Denz's report did not disclose the firm's names.

The anticipated improvement in weather is expected to play a major role in increasing employment in the construction field, Denz said.

And resort establishments reopening for the summer is counted on to alleviate much of the existing unemployment. No overall expansion is anticipated by manufacturing industries but relatively steady employment is expected, Denz said.

Because of unemployment increase and the augmented part-time employment, claims also have been on the upward trend during the three two-month periods since September, Denz added.

He announced a decrease in claims occurred in February and is expected to continue.

A high of 6,630 claims were recorded by the PSES office for January and February. The breakdown shows 1,175 initial claims, 926 waiting week claims and 4,529 compensable claims.

The low for the six months covered by the report came in September-October with 3,347. During this period 441 initial claims were handled, 356 waiting week claims and 2,550 compensable.

For the November-December period 4,933 claims were recorded. This included 1,253 initials, 740 waiting weekly and 3,000 compensable.

Kiwanis Club Witnesses Film Explaining Provisions Of Fire Insurance Policies

A colored film explaining every article incorporated in a fire insurance policy was shown to 76 members of the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club at yesterday's dinner meeting in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Walter McClelland, program chairman, introduced visiting and local insurance representatives who aided in sponsoring the program.

Speaker was Richard Leiby, state agent for New York Underwriters Insurance Co. and public relations chairman for the Anthracite Field Club of Scranton.

Leiby announced the willingness of his group to talk before service organizations and termed insurance "a very important part of our economy." Wilmer Frisbie was projectionist.

Also introduced by McClelland were Harry Brown, state agent for the Fire Association of Philadelphia, president of the Anthracite Field Club and head of the Fire Safety Association, and E. B. Stringham, northeastern district manager for Connecticut General Life Insurance Co.

Local agents presented were

George Armstrong, Mount Pocono; Joseph Small, Benjamin Coolbaugh, Harold Heberling, Gordon Coy, William Walter, Lawrence Schoenberger and Montgomery Crowe. Listed as members but not present for the meeting were Harry Albert, Walter Dreher and Miss E. E. Merwin, Mount Pocono.

A tribute to Arthur F. Everitt, active club member, was paid by Dr. P. N. Wohlson who informed members of Everitt's hospitalization in the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg. Dr. Wohlson described Everitt as loyal to the "ath" degree to Kiwanis activities and religious work, asking members to rise while a prayer was offered for Everitt's speedy recovery.

John Watt, chairman of the concert to be presented April 9 in the auditorium at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College urged members to expedite ticket sales. The concert will feature the Schuberts, a 60-voice female chorus under the direction of Gounod Evans.

A visiting Kiwanian, J. B. McDannell, Wilkes-Barre, was inroduced by Parke W. Kunkle, club president.

Dr. Wohlson asked members to take signs announcing store closing from 12 to 3 p.m. Good Friday to their business establishments and thanked Merle C. Ostrom, general manager of The Pocono Record, Inc. for supplying the cards.

Members who participated in the recent Varsity S and Community Chorus productions were praised for their efforts by President Kunkle.

Ann M. Foote Married In Connecticut

Ann Marie Foote, formerly of East Stroudsburg, daughter of Frank E. Foote of 1359 Fairfield Ave., Bridgeport, Conn., and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Foote, 113 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, became the bride of Rolf S. Ferrarese, son of Louise Ferrarese and the late Mrs. Ferrarese, of 675 Ogden St., Bridgeport, Conn., on Saturday, January 31, at 10:30 at the Holy Rosary Church in Bridgeport.

It was a double ring ceremony. Local members of the bride's family went to Bridgeport for the wedding.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Milton R. Possinger, of East Stroudsburg. She wore a gown of lace and tulle, strapless and in ankle length, with a matching jacket with a stand-up collar, long sleeves pointed at the wrists. Her hat was of matching lace and held a shoulder length veil. She carried orchids on a white prayer book.

Mrs. Robert Parise, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of powder blue, ankle length, with a matching lace jacket and a skirt of accented pleated tulle. She wore a Juliet cap of powder blue and carried yellow pompons.

Anthony Massa, of Bridgeport, was best man.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue two piece dress with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Fred Ferrarese, a sister-in-law of the bridegroom, also wore a navy blue dress with red accessories and a corsage of red roses.

A dinner for the immediate family was held in Milford, Conn., before Mr. and Mrs. Ferrarese left for a wedding trip to New York City. They are now making their home with the bridegroom's father, 675 Ogden St., Bridgeport, Conn.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

There are days when it would seem simpler just to exchange the social news for the hospital notes as more and more of our clubwomen and fellow workers fall by the wayside, suffering from colds, virus and sundry ailments.

However, there are still enough people on their feet to make quite a splash in the social whirl, so we'll stick with it. We'd better or we'll never find out what kind of material the degree team is going to pick out for their new uniforms.

We'll have to check up on how many rummage sales are going to be held this weekend and how the plans for the square dance are coming along.

I can never figure out whether Monroe County is the best organized in the whole country or whether its organizations are more active, and more vocal, but we certainly make more commotion than any other place in the world, I do believe.

It's enough to make you dizzy just checking up on them, and when you see a woman who's had a luncheon at noon, done some more Red Cross soliciting in the afternoon, been on the program and the refreshment committee at night, well it's amazing.

Listen To—Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10-15 a.m.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

A tisket, a tisket, a pretty heart shaped basket . . . like the one I discovered for 89c yesterday in our housewares department. These natural colored baskets in varied shapes and styles, are ideal for serving bread or buns. They're cute too when holding potted plants or artificial flowers . . . If you're planning a purchase of dinnerware in the near future, you'll be interested in seeing the table, set with Syracuse china in the gardenia pattern, now on display in our housewares department. Mary Hitesman has used a cloth of white linen to show off the lovely gold-trimmed green and white dishes, and the tall green goblets have stems and bases of crystal. Then, because Easter and feasting go together, Mary has chosen a child's Easter basket as the centerpiece—complete with everything from eggs bright as jewels to a yellow wool bunny with ears of felt, from our candy department . . . It seems to me that everything is light and bright this year. It's "Light and Bright" for the woman who wants to bleach her hair ever so slightly . . . it's light and bright for the man who wants his tie to reflect this year's most modern mood. And it's light and bright for the home-maker who selects one of the stunning new lamps from our current shipment. Floor lamps are shorter this year—averaging about 58 inches, and the bases are of shiny, golden brass, or wrought iron combined with brass. Shades are of shantung, and dip with exaggerated grace. They remind one of a woman's Easter bonnet—and are lavishly ruffled. The base of my favorite lamp (a modern piece that I really admire) is of wrought iron, with a rooster, holding the light atop his head, while he wakens the world as he stands tall on a globe of brass. The price is $22.50; all brass lamps are $19.98, and there are some handsome, moderately tagged, table styles.

We at Wyckoff's are thrilled because our fashions will make a television debut tomorrow morning at 10:45 over Philadelphia's WCAT, channel 10. That's when Charles Reid, editor of the very excellent East Stroudsburg High School newspaper, and his staff will show just how they go about publishing "The Eastburger." Wyckoff's won't be mentioned, of course—but Myrna Spangler will be wearing one of our $10.95 two piece dresses with striped skirt and solid color vest, and Jeanne Quinlan will be modeling a junior dress in polka dots with melon colored sash, which sells at $14.95. Wyckoff's certainly gets around, doesn't it? Our fashions get around too—right around the VERY nicest people . . . Just can't pass Pauline Marsh these days without being reminded to "Say something about our candy!" Truthfully, I could say EVERYTHING about her candy—in the very choicest adjectives—and still not cover the subject. There are THOUSANDS of eggs, bunnies, bears, pigs, and baskets in our Wyckoff candy department at the moment, and many of them are wrapped gaily in colored foil as bright as neons along Times Square. They're lovely to look at, delightful to eat, and terrifically tempting. Maybe we should put out an EGGSTRA edition so you could read all about them! Honestly though, when it's candy you're talking about it's all a matter of taste. Goodbye now!

Barrett Eliminates Roseto From Oxford Tournament, 67-61

Harmony Takes Measure Of Nazareth

Oxford, N. J. — Barrett eliminated Roseto from the Oxford Lions Club Invitation Basketball Tournament last night, 67-61, in the second of two games played here at Center School. The first contest featured Harmony in a 60-61 verdict over Nazareth Holy Name.

Norman Lewis and Fred Blakeslee, a pair of former Tobyhanna Township High school stars, led Barrett to victory on the strength of identical 20-point records. Each scored seven field goals and six foul shots.

Roseto, with Al Duvo and Dick Pritchard leading the way, opened a slim 17-16 lead at the end of the first period, but Barrett came back to tie the count at halftime, 29-29. Barrett had the better of the going in the second stanza, 13-12.

Pulls Away
Barrett put the contest on ice in the third period with a 20-15 bulge in the scoring and then made certain of victory with a slim 38-17 edge during the last 10 minutes of action.

Every member of the winning team broke into the scoring column, while Duvo's 16 tallies was the top point production for the losing Roseto club.

Barrett earned the right to tangle with a strong Pen Argyl quintet in the first of two tournament games tomorrow, on the same court.

Harmony held the upper hand throughout the contest with Nazareth and finished on the long end of the count by a comfortable margin of nine points.

The tournament opened on Monday, with Oxford and Pen Argyl turning in victories.

Greenberg Denies Trade Reports

Daytona Beach, Fla. (AP)—Hank Greenberg, Cleveland general manager, said yesterday he hadn't talked to the Washington Senators about a proposed trade that would have sent Jackie Jensen to Cleveland in return for Larry Doby, the American League's top home run hitter.

Talk
The Senators said Tuesday that Greenberg had proposed the swap to Calvin Griffith, vice president of the Senators, and that it had been turned down.

Felton To Clash With Rubicini

Detroit (AP)—Lester Felton of Detroit and Gus Rubicini, hard-punching Italian from Toronto, meet tonight at the Motor City Arena in an eight-round bout that will be televised from coast to coast.

Debut
The telecast will start at 9 p.m. (EST) and will see Felton making his debut as a middleweight. He previously fought as a featherweight, lightweight and welterweight.

Expensive Bonfire For Bucs

Pittsburgh, (AP)—The transfer of the Boston Braves franchise to Milwaukee resulted in a $12,000 bonfire at Forbes Field yesterday. After the transfer, the Pirates took over the Braves' schedule and Milwaukee will play the schedule originally assigned to Pittsburgh. As a consequence, the tickets the Pirates had on hand were worthless. And it cost $12,000 to print them.

Left Field
Pirate officials took 750,000 tickets out into left field yesterday and burned them. City and federal tax agents were on hand to meet legal requirements.

Now the Bucs are shelling out $12,000 more for a new ticket order.

Nats Blank Red Sox, 4-0

Sarasota, Fla. (AP)—Ken Wood's long three-run homer was merely so much frosting on the cake yesterday as the Washington Nats blanked the Boston Red Sox 4-0, in 10 innings.

Scoring
The Nats counted their first tally when shortstop Johnny Lipon threw wide to first while trying to complete a double play which would have ended the inning.

FEATURE BOUT: This one followed the kayo of Charley Goulart by Bobby King in a Boston ring. The unidentified spectator being handled by the handlers and ring officials tried to get at King, who is on floor here. Goulart and King are Bay State bidders.

Phillies May Need Help To Land Flag

By Joe Reichler
Clearwater, Fla. (AP)—As far back as last December, at the major-minor league meetings, Steve O'Neill predicted his Philadelphia Phillies would finish first or second in the National League pennant race in 1953. Nothing has happened since to make him change his mind.

"We can go all the way," said Stout Steve yesterday. "At worst, we should finish second. I have yet to see a team that is better than we are."

Starting his first full year as manager of the Phils, O'Neill is confident he has the punch to go along with the pitching to bring a pennant to Philadelphia. He believes that in first baseman Earl Torgeson, obtained from the Braves for Russ Meyer, who went to Brooklyn, he has the man who will drive in enough runs to account for enough victories.

"We scored fewer runs per hit, made fewer total bases and homers than any other first division club last year," said Steve. "Yet we had the best pitching and scored the most shutouts. We expect Torgy to give us that long ball which will drive in enough runs to make it easier for the pitchers."

Off Spot

There is no doubt that up to now Torgeson has taken the Phils' pilot off the spot. Earl's fine play around the sack and his timely and solid sucking in the exhibition games have quieted the grumbling that followed the closing of the deal that sent a 13-game winner away for a 230 hitter. Torgeson reported 25 pounds under his 1952 weight and proceeded to shove holdover first baseman Eddie Waitkus into the background.

O'Neill still has to come up with a replacement for Meyer, however. Trading off a 13-game winner, especially with a pitching staff that is thin in second line strength, might still prove a fatal move.

From a "big four," it has become a "big three." So much so that O'Neill expects 28-game winner Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons (14-8) and Karl Drews (14-15) to hurt from 300 to 350 innings each during the season. That means pitching every fourth day and sometimes every third day if necessary. Only Roberts topped the 300 mark last year with 330 innings.

Summing it up, the pitching is good but shy of depth, the hitting is just fair with Del Ennis the only dependable long ball hitter, the fielding is excellent and the catching is mediocre. It should take more than that to win the flag.

Reeders Baseball Club To Hold Practice Session On Sunday

Reeders — The Reeders baseball club had one of its most successful business meetings in the history of the Pocono Mountain League entry here at Jackson Township school last night. Norman Possinger, team president, was in charge of the gathering.

A total of 25 interested parties, including all club officials, were in attendance.

Plans
Final plans for Saturday's fund raising dance at Reeders Hotel were completed. In addition to dancing there will be cake walks. All proceeds from the affair will be used to defray the cost of operation during the coming summer months.

It was also decided at the meeting that the Reeders diamond contingent should hold its first practice session on Sunday.

All interested players are asked to report to Manager Al Kassner, veteran infielder, at the Reeders field on Sunday, at 1 p.m.

Anyone wishing to try for a position on the club is invited to attend the opening drill.

Yale Rates Edge In NCAA Meet

Columbus, O. (AP)—Yale and Ohio State's defending champions ruled as co-favorites yesterday for the 1953 NCAA swimming title—with Eli's sons granted a slight edge.

Classic
The annual classic is scheduled today, tomorrow and Saturday in the Buckeye Natatorium, with 230 splashes representing 54 colleges.

Baltimore Takes Measure Of A's

Hollywood, Fla. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics' run famine was still on yesterday as the American League's lost, 8-3, to the Baltimore Orioles.

Nine Hits

The A's had nine hits but they just didn't come at the right time.

Pirates Hold Practice Games

Havana, (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates settled down to workouts in intra-squad games yesterday because soccer teams have taken over Gran Stadium for the rest of the week.

Possible Starter

Meanwhile, Manager Fred Haney said young Bill MacDonald may get the starting pitching assignment when the Bucs open the season in Brooklyn April 14. MacDonald has been bothered by a sore arm but the right-hander allowed only one-run and three hits in an intra-squad contest Tuesday night and reported afterwards his flipper is in good shape.

YMCA Tourney To Resume Action Today

Action in the Monroe County YMCA Elimination Basketball Tournament resumes on the YMCA court today, after a one day break in the schedule. The usual doubleheader today will feature a junior and senior division contest.

The senior contest is carded for 7:15 p.m. and will send Jack's Market against Biggs' Restaurant. The junior contest will go on stage at approximately 8:30 p.m., with Turner's Market battling Pocono Manor Service Station.

This will be the third round of games this week and as in the past the public will be invited. Students are admitted for 10 cents and adults for 25 cents.

Open Date
No games are scheduled tomorrow, but six more contests will be played next week before the tournament ends. Two contests will be played on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with the championship contest in each division listed for Wednesday.

Junior teams surviving in the tournament thus far are Mt. Pocono Diher, a 70-62 winner over Harold's Atlantic, and Newman's Women's Shop, a 65-55 overtime victor over Sherman Theater.

DeVivo's Shoemen and Newman's Women's Shop survive in the senior bracket. DeVivo's club took the measure of Frailey's Insurance, 82-66, on opening night, and Newman's club outlasted Wagner's Garage on Tuesday, 75-63.

Frank's Barbers drew a bye in the first round of senior play, while Cyphers' Service Station had the same good fortune in the junior division.

No tournament games were held last night because of a Youth Rally at the YMCA.

A Gold Medal Tournament isn't being held this year due to the lack of eight teams in each division. Only seven teams are campaigning in each bracket.

Yeadon Surprises Allentown To Land Eastern Cage Title

Philadelphia, (AP)—Underdog Yeadon snatched down a highly favored Allentown High school quintet, 60-45, last night to capture the Eastern Regional PIAA class "A" basketball championship.

Yeadon now will meet Sharon in the state final at the University of Pennsylvania's Palestra Saturday night.

Sharon whipped Meadville, 55-45, in the Western title games last night at Pittsburgh.

Giant Killer
Yeadon, given little chance to go the distance when the class "B" school competing in class "A," gained the playoffs, played the giant killer last night and never was in serious trouble in beating Allentown.

Araujo Gains Ring Decision Over Davis

Cleveland, O. (AP)—George Araujo kept himself in line for a promised lightweight title shot by winning a unanimous 10-round decision over outclassed and bleeding Teddy "Red Top" Davis in a nationally televised bout last night. Araujo, a methodical worker with a pair of lightning hands, weighed 133½ to 133 for the Hartford, Conn., battler.

Scoring
Referee Tony LaBranch scored it 7-2-1. Judge Herb Williams 8-2 and Judge Charlie Bill 7-3, all in favor of Araujo.

Araujo, ranked number one in the lightweight division, had been promised a bout with the winner of the April 24 title bout between Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter and Tommy Collins, but a loss last night probably would have upset the plans.

A crowd of 6,319 fans, many of them attracted by a special sale of 4,000 tickets at $1 apiece, paid $10,060 to see the bout in 12,500 capacity Cleveland Arena.

The reason is that Esso Extra Gasoline... and only Esso Extra now contains an added ingredient... a built-in anti-freeze to prevent one of the commonest kinds of stalling. This kind of stalling is caused by "carburetor icing." It can happen to nearly all cars in damp, cool weather (30° to 55°), and can't be cured by a mechanic. Esso Extra is especially good in cars with automatic transmissions where restarting after stalling is more troublesome.

Bloodmobile At Matamoras This Afternoon

Matamoras Dr. Harvey Kler, blood procurement chairman, and Robert C. Phillips Jr., recruitment chairman, for the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile today at the Eastern Star Hall here, have been working diligently for the past two months to make the visit a success.

The hours for the visit are from 1 to 7 p.m. This represents an extra hour to accommodate those who desire to donate blood but are handicapped by interference with working hours. The blood will go to the use of the armed forces and to the much-needed blood bank for Pike Counties at home.

More than four hundred pints of blood were required by the hospitals serving Pike County last year, yet only slightly more than three hundred were obtained in the various drives during the year.

On a theme that "the life you save may be your own," those in charge of the program are urging even those who have not registered an appointment to offer their blood at the visit in Matamoras today. Many residents of the county have never realized the importance of donating blood—until the need was in their own home.

Secondarily, for the moment, is the current drive for funds for the local and national work of the Red Cross. Volunteers for the Pike County Chapter have been working ardently in the past few weeks to meet the chapter quota. Although their task has not been unrewarded, there are many potential contributors who have not been contacted or who have been negligent of the cause.

Announcement was made of the serious illness of Arthur F. Everitt, a charter member of the local group and cards will be sent to him.

The following ushers were appointed for April: Sunday mornings—Russell Renninger, H. R. De-

Brotherhood Hears Talk By Robinson

A well attended meeting of the Brotherhood of St. John's Lutheran Church was held Tuesday night in the church school room. A number of new members were received by President Roy Eisel. The devotions were conducted by Lewis Freeman.

Attorney George T. Robinson presented an address on "The Trial of Christ From the Lawyers' Viewpoint." He revealed the many errors that occurred in the trial before the Sanhedrin in which many of the fine laws of the Hebrews were broken by the leaders or judges.

He also revealed the same factors in the trial before Pilate.

During the business session Arthur Cassell, president of the Lutheran Brotherhood of the Allentown Conference, outlined the program for the annual convention of the Conference Brotherhood to be held in St. John's on June 5, to be followed by a dinner meeting at which the president of the Lutheran Brotherhood of America will be the guest speaker. The dinner meeting will be held at the Indian Queen Hotel.

Fred Bodie, also an officer of the Conference Brotherhood spoke briefly. Committees will be appointed by President Eisel to carry out the plan. The anniversary of the local brotherhood will be held on Sunday, April 26, at the vespers and plans for this service will be completed at a special meeting next Wednesday night after the service.

Announcement was made of the serious illness of Arthur F. Everitt, a charter member of the local group and cards will be sent to him.

The following ushers were appointed for April: Sunday mornings—Russell Renninger, H. R. De-

Pike County Fights Loss Of Trains

Milford—Citizens of Pike County are marshaling their forces in opposition to the proposed action of Erie Railroad in abolishing operation of Trains 27 and 28.

The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission has ordered a public hearing on the subject.

It will be held before a commission examiner in the Court House here April 1 and 2.

This region depends entirely on Erie service out of nearby Port Jervis, N. Y.

Citizens, business and industry affected by the proposed curtailment of rail services will attend to file their protests. Mail and express service are considered most vital to the interests of Pike County who are protesting the proposed abandonment.

Today the New York Public Service Commission will hold a hearing in the commission office, New York, to permit presentation of final testimony on a hearing held March 6 in Port Jervis library.

Nike, Richard Andrews, C. S. Kitchen; evenings: Edward Shock, Woodrow Fisher, Arthur Bossard and LeRoy Slatter. Wednesday and Thursday of Holy Week—J. B. Dunkelberger, A. W. Munkson, Richard Shock and Arthur Henning.

Robert Buck Graduates As Officer

Second Lt. Robert A. Buck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buck, Stokes Mill Road, East Stroudsburg, was graduated from the USAF Officer Candidate School March 20 and will begin extended active duty as a commissioned Air Force Officer.

The graduation ceremonies were held at Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, Texas, site of the Air Force's OCS. Principal speaker for the class of approximately 600 new second lieutenants was Admiral Alan G. Kirk, former ambassador to Russia.

2nd Lt. Robert A. Buck

Awarding of the commissions culminated six months of study and practical application in Air Force administration and leadership techniques for class members. For the majority of the new officers, the graduation represented an advancement from the enlisted ranks, principal source of Air Force officer candidates.

Most graduates will enjoy brief home leaves before reporting to new technical training, flying or duty assignments at bases throughout the Air Force. Customary tour of duty for the OCS graduates is three years.

Czechs Fly To West Germany

Frankfurt, Germany, (AP) — Four anti-Communist Czechs seized a flying air liner at gunpoint over Red Czechoslovakia Monday night and flew it across the Iron Curtain to freedom in West Germany.

Three passengers and the pilot, Miroslav Slovák, 24, were in on the plot to divert the plane from its scheduled Prague - Brno run. The co-pilot, radio operator and the other 23 passengers were not.

But two of the latter seized their chance and joined the plotters in asking asylum as political refugees after the silver-hulled C47 landed at the U. S. Air Force's Rhine-Main base near Frankfurt.

The remainder elected to return home. They probably will be handed back soon, along with the plane.
